Injured.

MISS ESKRIDGE HURT.

Sunday seemed a fatal day for three persons and accidents occurred to them almost simultaneously. Miss Florence Eskridge, was driving on the Pike when a wheel came off the buggy, causing the horse to run frantically. She was thrown from the conveyance, sustaining injuries of the hand and head.

At Kirk, Monroe Dunn, a ten year old boy, fell from a horse and broke his ankle.

Earl Snyder, of Hardinsburg, got his right leg broken coming home in a wagon from McQuady.

Compliments The News Staff.

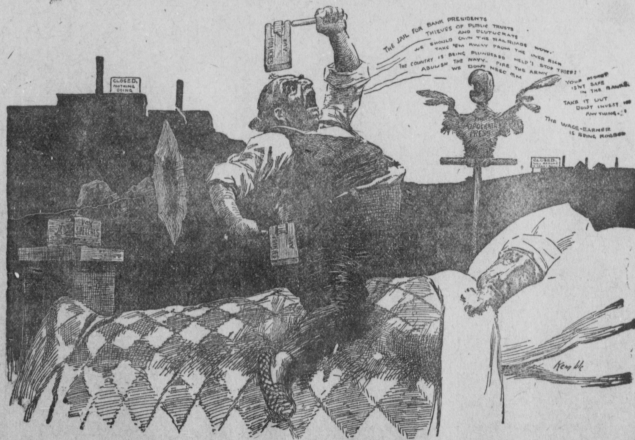

Thursday the Home Bakery presented the News staff with a box of Brown's Home-made Candies. The box contained the different varieties, chocolate, cream and mints. They were all good, especially the pen-out. The mints are delicious and are fine for parties and entertainments. The News staff always appreciates such compliments.

Screened Lump.

Best screened lump coal from Hancock mines, a better coal than the old Sloan coal, furnished in car load lots on tract at Cloverport for 10 cents a bushel of slightly pounds.

MAKING GOOD.

Ernest Haswell is making a decided success at the Cincinnati School of Art and great expectations follow him in his work. Just recently material has been selected for the School's catalogue and fifteen pictures were chosen from 800 drawings, one of these being a sketch by Mr. Haswell.

Vivian Pierce, who has a good position with the Louisville and Atlantic R. R., at Versailles, attended the Bowmer-Moorman wedding. Mr.

Pierce caught the bride's bouquet as she threw it from the stairway, and everybody knows what that means.

Communications have been received in this city from the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission in regard to the recent heroic act of Raymond May, and it is very probable that he will receive a medal from Andrew Carnegie.

Remember your friends with a copy of the News—a welcome souvenir.

Douglas Rafferty has been here a few days from New Albany attending to business matters for his mother. As soon as he returns he expects to accept a position in Louisville where he will be able to use his rare talent for drawing.

Harold Murray has entered upon a mechanical course of three years at the L. H. & St. L. R. K. shops in this city.

Among the promising young men at college this year are: John Jarboe, Wallace Pierce, Sterrett Jarboe, Russell Harris, Wilbur Hamman, Wm. White, Roy and Allen Kinchele, of Hardinsburg; Raymond Parker, of Tar Springs; Irwin Taylor, of Custer; Hughes Ireland, of Skillman; Robert Lyons, James Cunningham and Joe Piggott, of Irvington.

Three students who should be lauded and cheered are Messrs. Louie Dittenbaugh, James Burk and Virgil A. Babage, who are members of the 1909 graduating class of the Cloverport High School.

Remember your friend, with a copy of the News—a welcome souvenir.

Hubert Piggott, one of the best known college graduates of Breckenridge county, has a lucrative position as electrical engineer at Minneapolis, Minn.

David Murray, Jr., who spent Sunday in this city, is now reading law at his father's office in Hardinsburg.

A. Wallace Babage spent Saturday in Louisville on business. Mr. Babage is delighted with Mt. Sterling and is having perfect satisfaction with his school work there.

Continued Next Week.

Mr. Miller Hopes.

Chas. B. Miller, of Eddyville, was here last week enroute to Hardinsburg to vote for Billy Bryan. Mr. Miller renewed his subscription to the news and says the editor is getting in line again by endorsing Johnson and hopes he will get back to the Rooster by the next four years.

COURT NEWS.

The case of Russell & Hutcherson, Vs. Jarboe & Sheeran in which suit was brought for $6,900 on a timber deal, occupied ten whole days of the court's time. The jury was given the case at 2 o'clock Saturday. At 3:30 Monday they announced that they were hopelessly hung, and were dismissed.

The case of Miss Mary Collins Vs. the town of Irvington for damages for being bitten by a vicious dog, was tried Monday. The jury gave her $175, which is but $15 less than she asked.

FAIRNESS OF TAFT

Scrupulous In His Desire to Render Exact Justice.

REVIEWS OF COURTS MARTIAL

Refused to Approve or Disapprove Findings of Military Tribunals Until He Had Carefully Read the Evidence—A Case in Point.

When he was secretary of war Mr. Taft never unreservedly trusted to the judgment of courts martial upon offending officers to determine his action in approving or disapproving the findings of these military tribunals. He was scrupulous in insisting that all the evidence should be laid before him to be passed upon and weighed by him personally. No pressure of work could be too severe or lack of time too evident to prevent him from satisfying himself that exact justice had been done the accused, according to the evidence and the facts. One evening long after the rest of the departments had closed Mr. Taft, at the end of an unusually hard day, took up a bundle of papers relating to the case of a lieutenant who was sentenced to dishonorable discharge. The chief of staff was there, and he suggested, with a view to relieving Mr. Taft's work: "I think that you will not need to go deeper into the case if you read the conclusion of the judge advocate's memorandum and my memorandum. The man is a bad egg. The army will be better off without him."

"No," said the secretary, "I always prefer to go through these cases myself."

The officer had failed to pay his debts. Carefully and slowly Mr. Taft read the evidence through to the end. When he finished he looked up and exclaimed, "But he lied about it!" Rapidly he dictated a note to be sent, with the papers, to the judge advocate, that he should be treated as he had been treated: "He tried, as he admits, to lie out of it. I think the sentence should be carried out. There might have been some excuse for the other thing, but there could be none for the lie. It is time to stop this tendency among the officers who get into trouble. It must be discouraged for the honor of the service."

"I want to go over the rest of these myself," said he, indicating another pile of court martial reports. "I have done that sort of thing all my life, and I'd rather do it than take the judgment of some one else."

BIG AND BROAD.

Methodists Indorse the Candidacy of William H. Taft.

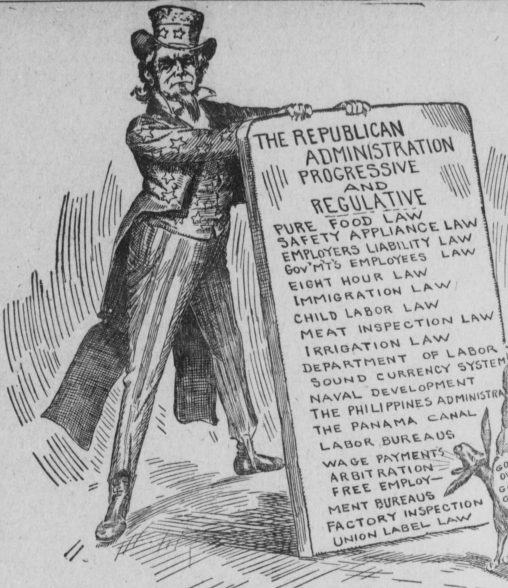

An unqualified approval of William H. Taft as a presidential candidate was given by the Rev. James C. D. Coote, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in Thompsonville, Conn., when he called at the headquarters of the Republican campaign in New York. For years Dr. Coote has taken a prominent part in Methodist circles in New England and in New York. He is a man of commanding presence, a clear, penetrating eye, and a ready, smiling tongue.

"No man has spoken so earnestly in favor of the great work that Christian missions are doing in the Philippines, in China and in the Orient generally as Mr. Taft," said Mr. Coote. "In an address at Yale university he emphasized that idea particularly, and on several other occasions he spoke enthusiastically of the good being done by the aggressive Christian evangelism in the different countries which he visited. It seems to me that no evangelist Christian should hesitate to support Judge Taft. He is just as big and broad in his religious ideas as he is in his physical proportions. He can be trusted to do what is right and right with all denominations."

"I am convinced that what Judge Taft has said on religious matters was not for political effect. He has gone hither and thither doing the work before him, and at the same time he has been observing and his sense of fairness have led him repeatedly to give expression to his appreciation of the work of Christian missions everywhere. In Thompsonville is one of the largest carpet manufacturing plants in the world," continued Dr. Coote. "During the last Democratic administration that establishment was compelled to close, and the thousands of employees were thrown out of work, a very large proportion of those had to leave the town. My observation is that the people in that section of the country remember that experience and that they do not favor for another administration that is likely to result so disastrous."

To oppose revision of the tariff by the believers in protection to American wage earners and industries might be to invite its revision by Democratic believers in importing the products of cheap foreign labor.

Nevertheless, friends and brethren, it must be admitted that for twelve years Mr. Bryan's voice has constantly vibrated for his native land.

KEEP IT UP!

BRYAN HIMSELF AGAIN.

Preaches Economic Absurdities in Same Old Way.

Mr. Bryan, who started out very conservatively at the opening of the campaign, resolving evidently to get the confidence of certain editors and business men who could not stand his economic radicalism, has broken through the traces and given up trying to be good. His speech on the trusts at Indianapolis puts him back in his old position of advocating the destruction of anything that does not meet his views without regard to method or consequences.

As usual, he is not specific as to what means should be employed to carry out his designs. He simply in a general way wants to destroy the so-called trusts, both large and small, regardless of the consequences to others engaged in similar business or of the consuming public. He tells us one day that the American people should be allowed to purchase where they can buy the cheapest, and another day he tells us that the money from the pockets of the people is flowing into the coffers of the trusts. If the latter be true, must be because the people are buying where they buy the cheapest, and if the trust made goods are the cheapest then they serve the consumer rather than injure him.

Mr. Bryan simply does not know what a trust is. Mr. Bryan does not know how to handle financial problems, industrial problems, even political problems. We have on our statute books today laws providing for the machinery to punish any illegitimate business and to remedy any inequalities or injustices. Mr. Bryan has not put forth any views showing how to improve present methods.

BRYAN AT TREASURY HELM.

How Would Business Men Regard Secretary Chosen by Him?

How would the financial community like to face a panic under a Bryan secretary of the treasury? This question goes to the heart of the degree of confidence which could be placed in a Bryan administration. Even if we had a new Bryan, selected by the responsibility of his office, would business men feel the assurance of prompt, energetic and intelligent action to protect the public faith and save the money market from disturbance which would be looked for under a secretary of the treasury named by Mr. Taft? Business men are likely to ponder this seriously between now and November.

It is not necessary to assume that Mr. Bryan still favors opening the mints to the free coinage of silver, and in the manner of his attitude on all questions affecting the maintenance of the financial fabric of the country. Up to the convention of 1904 he would not even agree to an expression of opinion that the silver question had been sidetracked by the great output of gold, and his present association with a grave doubt as to the soundness of it. It is doubtful if he could make any sincere declaration which would go far to establish confidence in his financial sanity.—Boston Transcript.

Colonel Henry Waterson in 1890 somewhat sneeringly described Mr. Bryan as "a boy orator." Mr. Bryan, it is fair to explain, is still an orator whose oratory retains all its boyish quality both as to extreme freshness and lack of meaning.

The supply of spellbinders may not exceed the demand this year, but it appears that spellbinding must be largely his own reward, and Bryan will get his.

Some of the Democratic prophets seem to be fairly aching to be without honor in their own country.

REV. FRANCIS BURGETTE SHORT EXTOLTS MR. TAFT.

It is striking that no one has yet declared that Bryan is a wise statesman. Those who are most anxious for his success do not urge special fitness, but rather that he may at last have found an issue that the people will not regulate at the polls. To return to power is the main thing of the Democratic party, no matter if it floats into office on Bryan bubbles or on any other conceivable pretext.

In pronounced contrast is the estimate that is universally expressed on Taft's equipment for the presidency. Irrespective of party, all attest to his mastery of affairs and wonderful administrative ability. The clergy are equally outspoken. Among those who called upon Mr. Taft at Cincinnati during the week was the Rev. Francis Burgette, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church at Salt Lake City. Discussing politics, Mr. Short said:

"Judge Taft is eminently fitted in character and practice to occupy the highest office in the land. His efforts to raise a high standard of life at home, his interest in and solicitude for nations across the sea, mark him as a man of sane visions and desire. Such a man this nation needs and requires at its head if we are to continue to hold the undivided admiration of those at home and those abroad. Such a man we must have if we would make history that is gloriously humane."

MILK PAIL IS FILLING.

Business Picking Up on Assurance of Taft's Election.

Business is becoming more active, factories are running, some full time, others nearly so, savings banks find that deposits are increasing and many new accounts are being opened. The horizon is rosy hued for the man who has goods to sell and the man who has labor to dispose of. The same conditions are reported east and west.

"The small country jobbers," writes a newspaper correspondent from Ohio, "are doing better, the railroad trains are jammed with travelers whose testimony is to the effect that things are slowly but surely righting themselves, and in the manufacturing districts there is a return to 90 per cent of the activity of a year ago."

The 100 per cent is not far off if the election of Taft shall give to manufacturers, merchants and wage earners the sense of security which attaches to impartial and efficient administration of the laws and protection from sudden changes which tend to unsettle commerce and labor and cause confusion, loss and disappointment to both.

Many patriotic Democrats frankly declare that their party has never had a leader like William Jennings Bryan. Whether this is an exultant boast or a melancholy admission is a matter of conjecture.

It is proudly contended by Bryan's advocates that he is a successful lecturer. So was the immortal Mrs. Caudie, for that matter. Yet the White House was never designed as a lecture hall.

Of course the former United States senator who proudly boasts that he led the mob that recently lynched a negro wretch in Mississippi is sold for Bryan and the reign of law.

MR. GOMPERS REBUKED BY TYPOGRAPHERS' CHIEF

Norman E. McPhail Declares Union Labor's Veto Cannot Be "Delivered" by Any Man or Set of Men.

"The vote of organized labor as a body will not, should not and cannot be delivered to any party or by any man or set of men." This is the declaration of Norman E. McPhail, president of the Typographical union, in a letter to Willis L. Moore, chief of the United States weather bureau. Thus another voice is added to the rising protest of union labor against the attempt of Mr. Gompers to "deliver" the vote of free American citizens.

President McPhail's letter is as follows: "Dear Mr. Moore—Your letter of Sept. 22 has just been received and read by me, as I have today returned from a tour of some of our New England cities for our organization."

"In reply to the question you ask me, I will state that in my opinion the vote of organized labor in this country is a body will not and cannot be delivered to any one party by any one man or set of men. To allow such a thing would be suicidal to the labor movement of the country."

"Members of labor unions, as citizens, have the right and should carefully consider the platforms and promises of the different political parties and should vote as they believe the broadest and best interests of our country lie."

"There can be no objection to this from any source, and it is something which every citizen should do. To claim that any man or set of men, as has been alleged forth in the newspapers, will deliver the vote of organized labor to any party is absurd as it is impossible. Sincerely yours, 'NORMAN E. MPHAIL'."

LABOR LEGISLATION.

Active Party Aims to Conserve Interests of All the People.

Various injunction bills were considered in committee during both sessions of the Fifty-ninth and first session of the Sixtieth congresses. During the first session of the Fifty-ninth congress several bills were before the judiciary committee, and hearings were accorded and considered. It was found, however, that the labor interests of the country could not agree upon any one bill and that different labor leaders were opposed to one or the other bills under consideration.

Again, during the first session of the Sixtieth congress the judiciary committee of the house gave more time and attention to the various bills presented, but it was found that no bill could be introduced that would be satisfactory to all the labor interests and no bill upon which all members of congress could agree. This so-called antitrust legislation is by no means a partisan matter, and so far neither Democrats nor Republicans have been able to agree among themselves to a bill that would seem to satisfy all concerned. There is no doubt, however, that in the near future some bill will be enacted into law, and when it is will be found that it will provide protection, not only labor and capital, but for the public as well. First it must be constitutional, and then it must be of such a nature that it will not lead to disorder and riot, but will conserve the best interests of the people at large and not be drawn in the interest of either capital or labor, but for the good and protection of all.

Economic betterment, not partisan politics, is the true purpose of organized labor. Mr. Gompers has become a misleader.

THE WORK OF CONGRESS.

Many Important Measures Enacted by the Majority.

The Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth congresses will go down in history as record breakers because of the large number of important measures enacted, measures having directly to do with the great business interests of the country and standing between the people and corporate greed and oppression. The Fifty-ninth congress opened a new era in American legislation, giving emphasis to the fact that the constitution is amply sufficient for all the needs of the people, safeguarding their interests and furnishing them ample means of protection. The Fifty-ninth congress was a Republican congress, and all the great measures enacted by it were Republican measures, originating with the Republicans and passed by Republican votes.

There is still much to be done to perfect the work begun by the Fifty-ninth congress. Experience has demonstrated that a Democratic congress cannot be depended upon to work out any great system of reform. No reform in administration or in legislation has ever come about under a Democratic regime. As at present constituted the Democratic party is made up of too many isms to be safe in handling great questions of political economy. Two great questions will soon come up for legislation—a revision of the tariff and a remodeling of our currency system. Twice since 1890 the Democrats have attempted tariff legislation, and twice the business of the country was brought to the verge of ruin and hundreds of thousands of workmen were thrown out of employment. Twice within the last thirty years the Democratic party has set up its standard of monetary legislation. First it declared in favor of putting the printing presses to work in manufacturing greenbacks without limit and, second, by declaring for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. No evidence has been furnished that the party has recanted from its stand for fiat money. It is safe to trust the party now?

MR. TAFT ON BANK GUARANTY.

Explodes Bryan's Pet Proposition in Speech at Minneapolis, Sept. 26.

My information with respect to the Oklahoma system is that it is developing as might be expected. I have a correspondent who is intimately acquainted with the conditions in Oklahoma. In a letter of Sept. 22, 1908, in speaking of the effect of the guaranty of deposit law, he uses the following language: "The growing worse than was expected on account of the recent decision there whereby it was declared that the land commissioner has no right to refuse to grant a charter to parties proposing to organize a bank. As a result of this decision of less than 500 people as many as four banks have been organized. Application is now in for the organization of a fifth bank in Oklahoma, and over 470 population."

"Men whose past record proved them to be incompetent are engaging in the banking business and getting in control of banking institutions. I have knowledge of one instance where a man was engaged in business some years ago, and when he went to another town and engaged in the same line of business in the name of his wife, but conducted her affairs in such an unbusinesslike way that she failed. Some time afterward he went to Oklahoma territory and started a small state bank, but found he could not succeed and sold to other parties and left the territory. A few months ago, however, he returned and started another state bank, but he found that the conditions are secured under the state guaranty law, and after sixty days' operation he now has over $100,000 in deposits, and he has the best authority that he now proposes to start fifteen new state banks throughout the state, two of which have already been organized and one now doing business."

Bryan declared for small appropriations and for sympathy with the suffering, but he failed to state the purpose and the honest expenditure of appropriations, that counts, and the greater the purchasing and consuming power of the rest of the commonwealth the better off is the farmer.

"Shall the people rule?" It is a curious outgrowth of democracy that Bryan should insist on the question of paternalism. If all the Bryan theories—abandoned, present and possible—could be put into practice, the United States would be Russiaized.

The greater the prosperity of the wage earner the more focused the farmer, whose produce the wage earner buys. The Republican party is the tried and proved friend of each.

The greatest productivity and therefore the greatest reward of organized labor are directly in line with the policies of the Republican party.

The gospel of Bryanism regarding those who dissent from its dogmas begins, "With charity for none, with malice toward all," etc.

The Submarine Cable.

The first cable successfully laid extended from Valentia, Ireland, to the coast of Ireland, to Heart's Content, Newfoundland, about 2,000 miles. The cable was landed on the American side on Aug. 5, 1908, and was ready for use on Aug. 16. About 710 short messages were sent through it, but it entirely failed within a month. The fact was demonstrated, however that direct communication under the ocean was possible, although few persons at that time believed that a submarine telegraph could be used for business purposes. Cyrus W. Field, to whose enterprise was due the laying of the first cable, thought differently. Not discouraged by this and other failures, he continued his work, and had planned, interested London capitalists in it, and, in 1865, succeeded in establishing submarine communication, which has never been interrupted.—New York Post.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1908.

Taft 306. Pin this in your hat.

There are a lot of people we will be feeling sorry for about this time next week.

We will tell you next week who's who.

Every body's hollering for Bill.

All you have to do next Tuesday is to make two cross marks on your ballot, one in the circle under the log cabin and the other in the small square opposite Ben Johnson's name. The officers of the election will do the rest.

Taft and Ben Johnson ought to carry this county by 200.

You Taft men and Johnson men had better get to work. Only six more days left of the campaign. Think how short the time is to secure two good men to represent us and take care of our interests in Washington.

Two hot propositions on Bryanism, we might say three, are Ed. Gunther and Ben Poindexter, of Owensboro and Henderson. Williams, of Hawesville. They can picture the plan of Bryan and his superficial theories, the dangers of "federal usurpation," the dominator of the "money power" and "do the people rule" to such perfection that you imagine you are standing face to face with the "Peerless One." They are especially hot on "the guaranty plank."

Why are we for Ben Johnson. For the same reason that we are supporting Taft. He is the better man of the two.

Dave Henry is having more fun out of this campaign than any man in the county. He talks Taft from early morn to late at night and wakes up in the night hollering for him.

Gaddie promises to do something for the churches after the election. The truth about this promise is he can't be found after the election.

Gaddie's friends are telling it around in a quiet way that Ben Johnson is a distiller. There is not a word of truth in this report. Ben Johnson never owned a dollars worth of stock, nor has he been interested in any other way in a distillery in his life. These reports are all spread to influence the temperance vote. The truth of the matter is that the temperance people never had a better friend and never will have than Ben Johnson.

A straw vote taken on the Branch Train Monday resulted in 15 for Taft and 16 for Bryan.

We call the attention of our farmer readers to the list of prices of farm products printed on our front page. You know what you are doing now. You don't know what a change of policies in this government would bring about. Our advice is to let well enough alone and stick to your bush. No better friend to the farmer than the Republican party.

Would Mortgage The Farm.

A farmer on Rural Route 2, Empire, Ga., W. A. Floyd by name, says: "Buckner's Arnica Salve cured the worst sore I ever saw; one on my hand and one on my leg. It is worth more than its weight in gold. I would not be without it if I had to mortgage the farm to get it." O-ly 25c, at Severs Drug Co.

"BILLY BRYAN."

By REV. HY J. BOATMAN.

[No tune.]

Billy Bryan, Billy Bryan,
"Bill a-tyin'," still a-tyin',
Vainly tryin' to
Thrive bein' like a chorin'.
Jackass chorus most uproarious,
Tried to four us.

Billy Bryan, Billy Bryan,
Far too high your kite's a-dyin'—
Wind's a-tyin' it.
Cease to moun' us, cease to moun' us
Jackass chorin' don't frighten us,
Only rouse us.

Billy Bryan, Billy Bryan,
Vainly cryin' like one dyin'—
Cair' cryin' us.
Once you'd give us halves for whole
us—
Silver dollars, then sixteen uns,
For our gold uns.

Billy Bryan, Billy Bryan,
Give up tryin'; quit your tryin'.
Call your "cry" in.
Once you litted the ass and monkey
Now you'd ride that poor old donkey—
Pierced out donkey.

Billy Bryan, Billy Bryan,
Forces routed, forces flyin',
Still you're tryin' to
Still you're shakin' like a lover,
Oft rejected for another,
Better brother.

Billy Bryan, Billy Bryan,
You're a good un; you're a lion
And hail's amid the cheers,
But your rear's sounds too chaffy—
Dead it's daffy. Glee us Taft-ty!
Give us Taft-ty!

Campaigning in 1908.

[From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.]
The train comes whizzing down the track
And the platform at the back
The candidate appears.
And then the engine hoarsely shrieks
His words are far from plain.
And then the engine hoarsely shrieks
And drags away the train.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Sold by all druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

LETTERS FROM WOMEN

About Pe-ru-na.

MRS. CLARA L. MILLER.

MRS. S. L. JEWELL.

MRS. MAHALA REID.

The following testimonials represent actual experience of every-day life. They are the truthful utterances of women who have been ill and have found a reliable remedy in Peruna.

It means a great deal to the women of America to have at hand a remedy capable of giving such relief. Constipation, rheumatism, kidney trouble, bronchitis and a host of other catarrhal conditions are relieved by Peruna. At least this is what the women say. They have no object in saying such things, except to render truthful testimony to their suffering sisters.

Peruna is making such friends every day. It is the testimony of the people that has made Peruna so justly famous.

Chronic Bronchitis.

Mrs. Clara L. Miller, Box 71, Columbia Sta., Seattle, Wash., formerly vice president of Skoog's Country Club, writes: "Nine bottles of Peruna cured me of a protracted case of bronchitis. There is no superior remedy that I know of, as the action of Peruna on the vast motor system of nerves is very beneficial. It increases the tone of the system and aids nature to perform her functions."

"I have recommended it to a number of my friends, who speak in the same high terms of it. I have certainly found it most efficacious medicine."

Mrs. Christina Smukala, 400 Winslow Ave., Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "I trust every one suffering from systemic catarrh will read this and profit by it."

"I was in a very bad condition indeed, when I began to take Peruna, and my friends as well as myself were very much alarmed over my condition. I was always nervous, could not sleep at night, my food did me no good, and I was always tired and weak. I tried several doctors, but found no relief. "Finally I took two bottles of Peruna and felt like a different woman. However, I did not stop there, but kept on with it until I had taken several bottles, when I felt completely cured, and have remained so ever since. I can eat and sleep now."

The Home Paper.

The home paper should be in every house. No children should grow up ignorant who can be taught to appreciate the home paper. It is said to be the stepping stone of intelligence to all those matters not to be found in books. Give your children a foreign paper, which contains not a word about any person, place or thing which they saw or sawed, ever heard of, and how could you expect them to be interested? But let them have the home paper and read of people whom they meet and of places of which they are familiar and soon an interest is awakened which increases with every arrival of the local paper. Thus a habit of reading is formed and their lives become more intelligent men and women, a credit to ancestors, strong in knowledge of the world as it is today.

Mother (coming swiftly)—Why, Willie! Striking your little sister? Willie (doggedly)—Auntie made me. Mother (sighing)—Why, Willie! I said if you did strike her I would never kiss you again! Willie (still doggedly)—Well, I couldn't let no chance like that slip.

They are antiseptic and promptly soothe the pain. Don't fail to insist upon DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. We sell them. Sold by all Druggists.

Men Never Know. Men mourn the lies that women tell—The cunning, heartless lies—Her Judas-lips that hide so well—The narrowing of her eyes. A heart is here; she seeks to say it—A soul is here; she does not weigh it—The game is called; how well she'll play it!

Her dearest there; she does not pay it. Men mourn the lies that women tell—The cunning, heartless lies. Men do not know the lies they hear—The brave, heartbroken lies—Her smiling lips that hide, from fear, The shadows in her eyes. A heart is here; for just a while—A soul is here; it bears defile—The game is called; her wit on trial—Her dearest there; dear God! her smile! A RECIPE.

Mix This Simple, Helpful Recipe at Home and Try It, Anyway.

Got from any prescription pharmacist the following:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Shake well in a bottle and take a teaspoonful dose after each meal and at bedtime.

The above is considered as the most certain prescription ever written to relieve Backache, Kidney Trouble, Weak Bladder and all forms of Urinary difficulties.

This mixture acts promptly on the eliminative tissues of the Kidneys enabling them to filter and strain the uric acid and other waste matter from the blood which causes Rheumatism.

Some persons who suffer with the afflictions may not feel inclined to place much confidence in this simple mixture, yet those who have tried it say the results are simply surprising, the relief being effected without the slightest injury to the stomach or other organs.

Mix some and give it a trial. It certainly comes highly recommended. It is the prescription of an eminent authority, whose entire reputation, it is said, was established by it.

A druggist here at home, when asked, stated that he could either supply the ingredients or mix the prescription for our readers, also recommends it as harmless.

How To Gain Flesh

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of Scott's Emulsion. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking

A SECRET DIVULGED.

Whereby a Hint is Given to Wives and a Warning to Husbands.

"Oh, dear," sighed the pretty caller as she viewed her friend's new bonnet, fresh from the store, "I wish my husband would allow me to buy such a lovely bonnet!"

"He would, my dear, if you knew how to handle him," answered the lady of the house.

"Now it is a waste of words to try to talk with him," said the pretty caller, with another sigh. "I saw a dream of a bonnet downtown the other day, and the price was just what you say you gave for yours—$25. But when I mentioned the price my husband flew into a rage and declared that $10 was every cent he would advance me to buy a bonnet with and if I couldn't make that do I would have to do without."

"Exactly," commented the lady of the house dryly. "You can't expect any other treatment when you approach your husband like that. My husband acts just the same way whenever I ask him for money. But this creature called 'man' is very easily misled if you go about it in the right way. Now, when I saw this bonnet downtown I made up my mind that I would be the happy possessor of it, so that night at the dinner table I began going into raptures over a bonnet that I had seen while shopping the price of which was only $50, and then I added as an afterthought that I had quite made up my mind to buy it."

"What!" roared my husband. "Fifty dollars for a bonnet? I guess not! You'll have to put up with $25, and not a cent more do you get?"

"As that was exactly the amount that I wanted I am afraid that the tears I shed were somewhat forced. But I gained my point, and that was what I wanted!"—Detroit Free Press.

A Brief Introduction.

"Long introductions when a man has a speech to make are a bore," says former Senator John C. Spooner. "I have had all kinds, but the most satisfactory one in my career was that of a German mayor of a small town in my state, Wisconsin."

"I was to make a political address, and the opera house was crowded. When it came time to begin, the mayor got up."

"Mine friends," he said, "I have asked to introduce Senator Spooner, who is to make a speech, yes. Well, I have it, and he will now do so!"—Literary Digest.

Just Curious.

"Tourist—What's that crowd down at the courthouse?"

Native—Oh, they're tryin' the case of Sam Johnson, suh.

Tourist—Sam Johnson! Why, that was the man that was lynched yesterday, wasn't it?"

Native—Ya-as, suh. But today some of the boys got to feelin' curious to know whether he was innocent or guilty, suh.—Catholic Standard and Times.

The Editor Explains.

A young lady was recently visiting an editorial office and being shown around by the editor. Approaching a class of drawers one of which was labeled "MRS.," she said, "Now, how would you pronounce that?"

"Oh," said the editor, "sometimes we pronounce it miss and sometimes missus."—Lippincott's Magazine.

HIGH FLYING GUINEAS.

"Buy guineas?" was asked the huckster who weekly call broke the monotony at the farm.

"Nope; guineas are no good. No sale for 'em. Wouldn't take 'em as a gift."

Ten years pass.

Now read this:

Wanted—5,000 young guineas weighing three pounds to the pair. Will pay at least 50 cents per pair for the same.

Wanted—1,000 men and women to raise guineas and sell me the young ones when they weigh one pound each at 40 cents a pair. —Poultry Item, Pennsylvania.

"What, I'll want," says John Cornsattel. "What does city folks want 5,000 guinea keets for?"

The guinea that screamed from the big walnut tree has flown a notch higher.

The scarcity of game and the strict Lacey law have sent all the restaurants to guinea.

WILD GAME PRICES.

Canvasback duck.....$4.00
Prairie chicken, broiled.....2.00
Pheasant, broiled.....2.00
Roast quail.....1.50

These are simply guineas in disguise—the pretty polka dot feathered screamers of grandpa's larder.

But what's the difference?

They taste good and gamey, have much dark breast meat and don't cost half the real thing. Then few know the anatomy of game so well that they can tell a guinea from a pheasant or a sprarrow from a redbird.

When the farmer offers guineas, snap them up, and remember French cooks deem guinea eggs best for baking and without equal for beating up cream and stiff.

Originally from Africa, these polka dot birds are most everywhere.

The West Indies are alive with them. England keeps them in game preserves. Austria, Germany and France are breeding them extensively.

Uncle Sam is going in for guineas. Better join in.

They breed in April and May, mate in pairs, lay as high as a hundred eggs

DON'T EXPERIMENT.

You Will Make No Mistake If You Follow This Cloverport Citizen's Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is known to cure the kidneys.

Don's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in Cloverport. Follow the advice of a Cloverport citizen and be cured yourself.

J.H. Willis, Judge of Police Court, living on High St., Cloverport, Ky., says: "I have no hesitancy in pronouncing Don's Kidney Pills the best remedy I have ever known and I take pleasure in recommending this sterling remedy to other persons suffering from disordered kidneys. It will be a pleasure for me to answer any questions about Don's Kidney Pills at any time. I procured them at Fisher's drug store."

The soothing spray of Ely's Liquid Cream Balm, used in an atomizer, is an unpeakable relief to sufferers from Catarrh. Some of them describe it as a Godsend, and no wonder. The thick, foul discharge is dislodged and the patient breathes freely, perhaps for the first time in weeks. Liquid Cream Balm contains all the healing, purifying elements of the solid form, and it never fails to satisfy. Sold by all druggists for free, including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros. 36 Warren Street, New York.

Had It Reasoned Out.

"You said you thought there was no malaria around here," said the indignant stranger.

"I did think so," answered Farmer Corbett. "After all the summer boarders took away I didn't see where there could be any left."—Washington Star.

A Modern Idea.

Reel feeds covering hundreds of square miles have been discovered in Saskatchewan, Canada, says a Toronto dispatch. The reeds are said to be similar to those from which Chinese and Japanese matting is manufactured. The American government, it is added, has spent much time and money in seeking such material.

Pat and the Lava.

"Now, then, Pat, what is the lava I hear the master talking about?"

"Only a drop of the crater," was Pat's reply.

AIRSHIP INSURANCE.

Farmer Asked For Flying Machine Clause in His Policy.

Jacob Wolner, a farmer of Nepaug, Conn., went to Winsted, Conn., recently to buy fire insurance. He insisted on there being a flying machine clause in the policy, saying he had read how Orville Wright had perfected his aeroplane, and he thought there was as much danger of a flying machine striking and wrecking his building as lighting if aeroplanes keep pace with the development of automobiles.

The farmer wanted a five year policy, but when informed by Justice James Smith, the insurance agent, that he was ahead of the insurance companies, which have not yet begun to insure against loss by flying machines, he said dejectedly:

"Insure my buildings for one year only. Perhaps the companies will be up to date by the time my policy expires."

BULL MARKET ON CATS.

Japan Finds They Are Real Eradicators of Bubonic Plague.

As a result of discoveries by the marine hospital scientists at Washington and health officials of the Japanese government there is about to be a strong bull movement in the cat market. It has been proved that the feline family is immune from bubonic plague and that the most effective way of eradicating the disease from oriental countries and certain Pacific coast states is to scour the earth for pussies and wage war to death on rats and chipmunks.

These little animals are the medium through which the disease spreads most rapidly, and it has been found that cats devour infected specimens and grow fat on them. As a consequence marine hospital officials advise all who have "Thomson's" and "Tab" with four sound legs and good eyes to "hold them for a rise."

Potato Bearing Apple Tree.

An apple tree on John Wilson's farm, near Gillette, Wyo., is bearing the Irish potatoes instead of fruit. Wilson claims no credit for evolving the phenomenon, being as deeply mystified as to its cause. He says he has examined the tree and tested the potatoes. The freak sprouts taste like ordinary potatoes, but differ from the ordinary kind in that each eye contains an apple seed.

We have passed the fifth milestone in our existence. During that time we have grown from a small beginning to a large and prosperous business. We have endeavored to keep abreast of the times, providing for our depositors every safe-guard known to their protection and security. Our funds are guarded by a modern burglary and fire-proof safe, and insurance is carried to cover losses by either burglary or robbery. We pay 4 per cent. interest on time deposits, which is more than any other bank in Breckinridge county pays.

We believe in paying our patrons all we can for the use of their money. The late disastrous bank failures have demonstrated that it is not the oldest and largest bank that is the safest. We take this opportunity to thank our customers whose patronage has helped to make this the largest and best statement in our five years of business.

Twice Cured Of SKIN TROUBLES

First Case a Rash Which Itched and Stung--Threatened Ten Years Later With Blood-Poison in Leg--But Both Times the Sufferer's

RELiance IN CUTICURA
PROVED WELL-FOUNDED

"About twelve or fifteen years ago, while living in West Virginia, I had a breaking-out, and it itched and stung so badly that I could not have any peace because of it. I saw three doctors and they did not agree on what it was, and one of them gave me something that he called medicine, but I called it soda water. I might just as well have washed in rain-water. Then I got some Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent and began to get better right away. They cured me and I have not been bothered with the itching since, to amount to anything. About two years ago I had a grippe and pneumonia which left me with a pain in my leg. Treatment ran its course but my leg, which then swelled and began to break out. It got in pretty bad shape, so I went to a doctor. He was afraid it would turn to blood-poison. I used his medicine but it did no good. So I went for another set of the Cuticura Remedies. I used them three times and cured the breaking-out on my leg. Now I won't be without Cuticura. J. F. Henson, R. F. D. 3, Milan, Mo., May 13, 1907."

INDIANA FARMHAND

Writes About Country Life.

Washington, October -- An Indiana farmhand has written a letter to the Country Life Commission is carrying on. The President has turned the letter over to the Country Life Commission and the Commission has asked the farmhand to write more.

"I have been a farmhand just long enough," says the President's correspondent, "to have seen the cause of so many of our sons and daughters and well-meaning, reliable farmhands leaving the beautiful farm and country and going to the city. A lack of order and system on the farm and too long hours for a day is what is driving the best minds from the farm to the city and shop. What can we expect of a hand, or the farmer's wife and her prosperity, in the way of intellectual development when they get out of their beds at 3:30 in the morning and work from that time until 8 or 9 p. m. ? And no attention paid to the Sanitary conditions of the home, and necessary conveniences on the farm for doing the farm work with the least labor and time."

This man has given the Country Life Commission some very interesting first-hand information about rural conditions and recommendations based on a long experience in the farm work and farm life. He has worked for all kinds of farmers, good and bad, he says, and he has always had his eyes open to detect the cause of their success or failure. He has drawn his own conclusions and set them forth in down-right, straightforward fashion. Education pays in farming, he says. The farmer who plans out his work and carries it through in a systematic, business-like manner, just as the city man does, will be able to shorten the hours of labor.

So many farmers measure everything on the farm from the standpoint of West. He was very much pleased with the outlook of that country and has leased a fine new hotel, "The Loewen," Emid, Oklahoma, where he and his family will move and take possession next month.

Miss Edith Lewis of Louisville was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. S. P. Parks last week.

If the family arise every morning at 5 o'clock and the wife and daughters attend to the household duties, and the farmhands and sons attend to the chores and go to the field at 7 o'clock and work until 11 or 11:30 and go to the field again at 1 and keep at it until 6 o'clock, and go to the house and eat the supper and then do the evening chores, they have done a farm day's work. Regular hours for work, and regular hours for meals, and regular hours for sleep, and regular hours for rest and recreation, with plenty of standard papers and books, including the best agricultural papers and books, and a full faith in God, and good grub is wanted.

"The family should rise at 5 o'clock on Sunday morning as well as on week days, and do the necessary Sunday morning chores, and then go to church and show the business man in the city that Sunday on the farm does not consist in changing the stock from one field to another, or salting it, or unloading a load of hay that was brought in on Saturday evening.

"Coming to the meals at the meal hour makes it easy on the wife so she can arrange her household duties in order, as can also the husband his farm work."

"Men of worth and standing in the shop and city tell me that if order and system were used on the farm they would go back to the farm. If the farmer wants to keep his sons and daughters on the farm he must not lengthen the hours for a day's work at both ends. Limit the hours of work on the farm to twelve or thirteen with pay for overtime, and freedom to the hired man on Sunday."

The Country Life Commission welcomes letters like this, because as Professor L. H. Bailey, Chairman of the Commission, recently pointed out, one of the objects of the investigations of the Commission will be to obtain, as fully as possible, the opinions of both farmers and of their hands concerning the question of farm labor and the condition of hired help. It is likely that when the Country Life Commission reaches Indiana in the tour of the country which it will make early next month it will endeavor to get into personal touch with this letter writer.
